

Instructions

Resource Activity Parents - talking about career planning

Resource Includes Instructions and Factsheet

Learning Outcome Inform parents of purpose and expected outcomes of Work Inspiration and to encourage parental involvement and support of their student's career planning

Outline The Factsheet covers:

- What is Work Inspiration?
- Expected outcomes for students
- What is a career?
- What is career development?
- How can you help your child?
- Some questions to ask during Work Inspiration to encourage career conversations with students.

User Parents of students selected to participate in a Work Inspiration

Timing After students are selected to participate but before they attend the Work Inspiration program

Procedure The Factsheet should be sent to parents (either in hard copy or by email) after their child has been selected by their school to participate in Work Inspiration. Excerpts of the content of the Factsheet can also be used in school newsletters to encourage parents to have career conversations with their students. The following disclaimer should be inserted at the bottom of the newsletter article:

Content adapted from the Work Inspiration Schools' Career Development Toolkit Factsheet "Parents – talking about career planning", an initiative of The Smith Family for Work Inspiration.