"New Land or Universe"

As we landed on Terra Unilink, it had been a long journey from earth. Our new home planet had everything resource wise needed for the survival of every single living being. All the humans, plants, animals and every breathing being had a new opportunity to flourish.

The space travel had been considered strange but it was successful and the great thing was that no one was left behind. Terra Unilink combined the beauty of nature and technology into one so that every being could prosper. Initially, the majority of our crew were uncertain of what was to come but faith kept us pushing and believing that there had to be something greater outside of earth.

As we approached Terra Unilink, everyone's worries began to disappear. The sense of relief was apparent from the joy on the overly excited faces.

Terra Unilink was colourful, with waterfalls of clear waters, green that was breathtaking, technology that allowed for self-sufficiency and growth and an environment that allowed for better human interaction and communication. It was perfect as it eliminated the unnecessary stresses of life but also allowed growth. It was a place perfect for humans to get to understand each other. The joy and excitement of what was to come was indescribable as this was the place all beings had longed for.
